CHICAS: Discovering Hispanic Heritage Patch Program

This patch program is designed to help Girl Scouts of all cultures develop an understanding and appreciation of the culture of Hispanic / Latin Americans through Discover, Connect and Take Action.

¡Bienvenidos!

Thanks for your interest in the CHICAS: Discovering Hispanic Heritage Patch Program. You do not need to be an expert or have any previous knowledge on the Hispanic / Latino Culture in order to teach your girls about it. All of the activities include easy-to-follow activity plans complete with discussion guides and lists for needed supplies. The Resource Guide located on page 6 can provide some valuable support and additional information.
CHICAS: Discovering Hispanic Heritage Patch Program Requirements

Required Activity for ALL levels:
Choose a Spanish speaking country and make a brochure or display about the people, culture, land, costumes, traditions, etc. This activity may be done first or as a culminating project.

Girl Scout Daisies:
Choose one activity from DISCOVER, one from CONNECT and one from TAKE ACTION for a total of FOUR activities.

Girl Scout Brownies:
Choose one activity from DISCOVER, one from CONNECT and one from TAKE ACTION. Complete one activity from any category for a total of FIVE activities.

Girl Scout Juniors:
Choose one activity from DISCOVER, one from CONNECT and one from TAKE ACTION. Complete two activities from any category for a total of SIX activities.

Girl Scout Cadettes, Seniors and Ambassadors:
Choose two activities from DISCOVER, two from CONNECT and two from TAKE ACTION. Then, complete the REFLECTION activity, for a total of SEVEN activities.

Cadette, Senior and Ambassador REFLECTION Activity:
Throughout history Latin American countries have experienced many events from civil wars to economic downfalls, leading to an immigration movement throughout the US. On your own, do some research using books and the internet, to create a one page reflection on the following questions. Be creative! Express your reflection as a poem, journal entry, and song or even as an artwork! Also, you can share your beliefs and sent your work to a newspaper, politician, etc.

How has the big wave of immigration influenced the US economy and culture? How has immigration influenced your family? If you were the next president of the US, what issues would you be most concerned with in Latin America?

2. Read about two Latina heroines and their life story
   Explore and learn how and why they became heroines. Discuss with your family, friends or troop any struggles and obstacles they encountered in order to become heroines. Resource Guide Page 6

3. Research information on different Latino Musical Instruments
   Latino culture is a blend of influences from many different cultures; that is very evident in the music. Find out where Latino musical instruments come from and how they are made. What types of music use them? What country did the music style originate in? Listen to a piece of Latino music and see if you can identify the instruments you hear in the music. Resource Guide Page 6

4. Latin America fun facts
   Complete the specific Girl Scout level activity. Resource Guide pages 7-13
   - Girl Scout Daisy- pages 7-9
   - Girl Scout Brownie- page 10
   - Girl Scout Junior- pages 10-11
   - Girl Scout Cadette, Senior and Ambassador- pages 12-13

5. Currency and Exchange Rate
   Learn the currency name and exchange rates for four Latino countries. Use the exchange rate to calculate how much a box of Girl Scout cookies and Girl Scout annual dues would cost in a Latino Country.

6. Watch and Learn
   - D B J Watch a “Maya and Miguel” episode and learn the Spanish words they use. http://pbskids.org/mayaandmiguel/flash.html or check out the DVD through GSCNC at http://www.gscnc.org/chicaspatch.html.
   - C S A Watch The “La Quinceañera” Documentary and compare the Hispanic tradition to the American Sweet Sixteen. http://www.laquinceaneradocumentary.com/ or check out the DVD through GSCNC at http://www.gscnc.org/chicaspatch.html.
Connect

1) Create and display a craft related to any of the Hispanic cultural traditions
   Resource Guide Page 14

2) Meet, greet and learn
   Invite a person from a Latino country to visit your troop. Ask them to talk about their country, what was it like growing up there, when and why they came to the United States, and their experience becoming part of the community here. What do they miss the most?

3) Hispanic Americans and Latinos in History
   Use books and Internet resources to learn about 20 famous Hispanic Americans and Latinos listed on the activity. Resource Guide Page 15

4) Read about the culture!
   Learn new things in their costumes and traditions. Compare them to your own culture. Discuss similarities and differences between them. Resource Guide Page 16

5) Girl Scouting in Latino Countries
   Learn about the tradition and history of Girl Scouts/Girl Guides in Latino Countries. Find out if their Girl Scouts/Girl Guides do anything different from Girl Scouts of the USA. Visit: www.wagggsworld.org

6) Embassy Tour
   Take a tour of a Latin American Embassy. Talk to someone who works in the embassy about current events in that country and ask them what services they provide to their community here in the United States.
Take Action

1. Cook the Latino way
   Prepare food of Hispanic origin. Share it with friends and/or family.
   Resource Guide Page 17

2. Encounter and explore
   Visit a Latino culture site within the Washington DC metro area.
   a. Hispanic Gala Theater (www.galatheatre.org)
   b. Smithsonian Latino Center (www.latino.si.edu)
   c. Teatro de la Luna (www.teatrodelaluna.org)

3. Community Service
   Research organizations that serve Latinos living in the US and/or Latin America. How was this organization started? What are the main issues they deal with? Learn how you can get involved. Do any famous Latinos sponsor the organization? If you are working on a GS Award, volunteering at these organizations can provide your international hours.
   Resource Guide Page 18

4. Dance it
   Learn how to dance one of the many Latino dancing styles. Where did this dance originate? What cultures influenced this dance?
   Resource Guide Page 18

5. Pen Pals
   Become a pen pal with a Girl Scout/Girl Guide who lives in a Latino County.

6. Latino Issues in the DC Metro Area
   Read local Hispanic periodicals (newspaper and magazines) and learn about issues important to local Hispanic communities. Issues to consider include immigration, housing, transportation, education, employment, and language.
Resource Guide

Here are some suggested books, websites, activities, recipes and songs. If you find another resource, feel free to use it. You can also make the program more challenging by adding extra activities. Be flexible by asking girls to work in pairs or as a troop on the program.

The Cuna people live in the San Blas Islands near the north coast of Panama. They are famous for their molas—embroidered pictures sewn from layers of colored cotton cloth. Mola designs usually show animals or scenes from the maker's daily life.

Tourists and collectors pay high prices for molas, so the women who make them are very important to the community.

La gente cuna viven en las Islas de San Blas cerca de la costa norteña de Panamá. Son famosas por sus molas—estas imágenes bordadas están hechas de capas de tela colorada de algodón. Los diseños usualmente muestran animales o escenas de la vida diaria de la creadora.

Los turistas y coleccionistas pagan precios altos por las molas. Las mujeres que las hacen son muy importantes en la comunidad.
The sun was important to all early cultures. Some worshipped the sun, some used its movement to calculate the seasons, and nearly all told stories about it. Throughout Latin America, people still like to decorate things with pictures of the sun.

This traditional design is from Costa Rica.

The Taino Indians, who lived in Puerto Rico before the Spanish came, carved petroglyphs (symbols on stone) in a special style.

Los taínos, que vivieron en Puerto Rico antes de que vinieran los españoles, tallaron petroglifos (símbolos en piedra) de un estilo especial.

Modern Puerto Ricans still use the coquí—a small tree frog—as a symbol of their island.

Los puertorriqueños modernos todavía usan el coquí—una ranita de árbol—como un símbolo de su isla.

Why does this design show a bird sitting on someone's head?

THE STORY BEHIND THE NAME

Can you match the country with the meaning of its name?

____ Argentina 1. An early Spanish explorer named this part of Central America “depths,” because of the deep ocean off its coast.

____ Bolivia 2. Part of this country is bordered by the Río de la Plata (“River of Silver”). Its name comes from the Latin word for silver, argentum.

____ Brazil 3. This country—which Christopher Columbus never reached—was named in his honor.

____ Colombia 4. The Equator runs through this small South American country, and gives it its name.

____ Costa Rica 5. This country was named for a Venezuelan general who helped it and some other countries win freedom from Spain.

____ Ecuador 6. Native villages built on stilts in Lake Maracaibo reminded Spanish explorers of Venice, Italy (which has canals instead of streets), so they named the area “Little Venice.”

____ El Salvador 7. “Rich Port” first meant the city of San Juan, but is now the name of the whole island.

____ Honduras 8. This country was named for Jesus the Savior, and its capital translates as “Holy Savior.”

____ Peru 9. Columbus named this area “Gold Coast” for gold ornaments worn by the native people. It was later changed to “Rich Coast.”

____ Puerto Rico 10. Birú—either the name of a small river or the native chief who lived nearby—was the source of this country’s name.

____ Uruguay 11. Trees from this region were exported to Portugal, so the Portuguese called this country “the land of _______ trees.”

____ Venezuela 12. This small country was named for the river which is its western border. It means “bird tail” in an Indian language, after a waterfall which spreads out like the tail of a bird.

Hispanic culture traditions:

- Three Kings Day: The Feast of the Three Kings, also known as the Epiphany, takes place every year on January 6th. It is an integral part of Puerto Rican folklore. On the feast of the Epiphany, the Three Kings visited the newly born Christ Child in Bethlehem bearing him gifts. This tradition is repeated and reflected in the present day with the belief that on this eve the 3 Kings will visit every good child to deliver those gifts. Tradition states that on the Eve of the Epiphany children collect hay, straw or grass and place it in boxes or containers under their beds. This gesture is a gift of food for the Kings' Horses while they rest in between deliveries.

- Cinco de Mayo: is a regional holiday in Mexico, primarily celebrated in the state of Puebla. The holiday commemorates an initial victory of Mexican forces led by General Ignacio Zaragoza over French forces in the Battle of Puebla on May 5, 1862. The date is observed in the United States and other locations around the world as a celebration of Mexican heritage and pride.

- Day of the Dead: is a holiday celebrated mainly in Mexico and by people of Mexican heritage (and others) living in the United States and Canada. The holiday focuses on gatherings of family and friends to pray for and remember friends and relatives who have died. The celebration occurs on the 1st and 2nd of November, in connection with the Catholic holy days of All Saints' Day and All Souls' Day on those days. Traditions include building private altars honoring the deceased, using sugar skulls, marigolds, and the favorite foods and beverages of the departed, and visiting graves with these as gifts.

- Hispanic Heritage Month: is the period to recognize the contributions of Hispanic Americans to the United States and to celebrate Hispanic heritage and culture. The observation started in 1968 as Hispanic Heritage Week under President Lyndon Johnson and was expanded by President Ronald Reagan in 1988 to cover a 30-day period starting on September 15 and ending on October 15. September 15 was chosen as the starting point for the celebration because it is the anniversary of independence of five Latin American countries: Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua. They all declared independence in 1821. In addition, Mexico and Chile celebrate their independence days on September 16 and September 28, respectively.

Take Action #1: Cook the Latino Way

Mados

2 ripe plantains
1 cup vegetable oil

Slice plantains diagonally into about a ½ think slices.
In a skillet, heat oil, should be about ¼ inch deep over medium high heat.
Cook until golden brown on both sides
Put Plantains on paper towel to take away any oil residue

Guacamole

4 ripe avocados
1 large tomato diced
Half a yellow onion diced
Bunch of cilantro chopped
Salt and lemon to taste

Mix all together
Best when eaten with tortilla chips

Tostones

3 to 4 large unripe (green) or barely ripe (slightly yellow) plantains
About 2 cups olive or canola oil, for frying

With a sharp small knife cut ends from each plantain and cut a lengthwise slit through skin. Cut plantains crosswise into 1-inch-thick pieces and, beginning at slit, pry skin from pieces. In a 12-inch nonstick skillet heat 1/2-inch oil over moderate heat until just hot enough to sizzle when a plantain piece is added. Fry plantains in batches, without crowding, until tender and just golden, 2 to 3 minutes on each side. With tongs transfer plantains as fried to paper towels to drain.
Remove skillet from heat and reserve oil. With the bottom of a heavy saucepan or a wide solid metal spatula flatten plantains to 1/4-inch thick (about 3 inches in diameter). Into a bowl of warm salted water dip flattened plantains, 1 at a time, and drain them well on paper towels.
Heat reserved oil over moderate heat until hot but not smoking and fry flattened plantains in batches, without crowding, until golden, about 3 minutes. With tongs transfer tostones as fried to paper towels to drain and season with salt if desired.

Coconut Pineapple Batido

1(16oz) can cream of coconut
1/3 ripe pineapple (4 cups)
1 cup evaporated milk
½ tsp vanilla extract
1 cup crushed ice

Mix in blender and enjoy

Take Action #4: Dance it!

Merengue is a type of music and dance that comes from the Dominican Republic. It is popular all over Latin America. Merengue means whipped egg whites and sugar in Spanish, similar to the English word meringue. It is unclear as to why this name became the name of the music. Perhaps, it traces its meaning from the movement on the dance floor that could remind one of an egg beater in action.

Salsa refers to a fusion of informal dance styles having roots in the Caribbean. The dance originated through the mixture of Mambo, Danzon, Guaguanco, Cuban Son, and other typical Cuban dance forms. There is a strong African influence as well.

Cumbia is considered to be one of Colombia’s national dances and music styles. Cumbia originated from the Caribbean Region of Colombia, and is popular all over Latin America, especially in Mexico, Argentina, Peru, and Panama, all with their distinct forms of Cumbia.

Bachata is a genre of music that originated in the countryside and the rural neighborhoods of the Dominican Republic. Its subjects are often romantic; especially prevalent are tales of heartbreak and sadness. In fact, the original term used to name the genre was amargue ("bitterness," or "bitter music"), until the rather ambiguous (and mood-neutral) term Bachata became popular. The form of dance, Bachata, also developed with the music.

Reggaeton is a form of urban music that became popular with Latin American youth during the early 1990s and spread over the course of 10 years to North American, European and Asian audiences. Originating in Panama, Reggaeton blends Jamaican music influences of reggae and dancehall with those of Latin America, such as bomba, plena, salsa, merengue, Latin pop and bachata as well as that of hip hop, contemporary R&B, and electronica.
