LETTER FROM THE ACTING CEO

Dear Girl Scout Family,

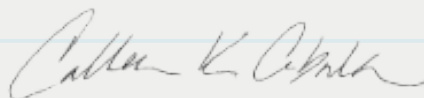

Welcome to a new Girl Scout year! Girl Scouts Nation's Capital is thrilled to offer a robust and diverse selection of programs that will encourage your Girl Scout to be bold and take new risks.

From STEM exploration to creative arts, high adventure, and entrepreneurship, our range of programs offers a wide variety of opportunities for Girl Scouts to discover their interests and build self-confidence. Along the way, Girl Scouts will earn badges, make friends, have fun, and will be surrounded by supportive adult volunteers and mentors.

Troop leaders, we encourage you to attend your local service unit meetings. A service unit led by experienced volunteers is one of the best program resources for troops. You will find support, training, program ideas and even friendship and best of all it meets in your own community. If you need assistance connecting with your service unit, please email membershipsupport@gsnc.org.

Thank you for your ongoing support. As we embark on a new Girl Scout year, together we will continue our mission of building Girl Scouts of courage, confidence, and character.

Yours in Girl Scouting,

Colleen Cibula, Acting Chief Executive Office

KEEPING IT GIRL-LED

Kindergarteners through seniors in high school gain confidence and leadership skills when given the opportunity to lead their activities, cooperate with others, and learn by doing instead of by observing.

Examples of girl-led governance:

- 1.) Circle or "Ring" - While sitting in a circle, Girl Scouts create a formal decision-making body to express their ideas. You play an active role in facilitating discussion and helping them plan. Girl Scouts often vote to finalize decisions.
- 2.) Patrol or Team System - Large troops may divide into small groups, with every member playing a role. Teams of four to six Girl Scouts are recommended so that each gets a chance to express their opinions.
- 3.) Executive Board - One leadership team makes decisions for the entire troop, usually with a president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer that hold their own meetings. Girl Scouts rotate roles throughout the year.
- 4.) Town Meeting - Business is discussed and decisions are made at meetings attended by all the Girl Scouts in the troop. Your role is to act as a moderator and ensure everyone gets a chance to talk and that all ideas are considered.

VOLUNTEER TIPS

on Girl Led programming

As a volunteer, you'll draw on the Three Keys of Girl Scouting as you lead Girl Scouts of any age. And naturally, girl-led at the Daisy level will look very different from girl-led at the Ambassador level. What is most important is that your Girl Scouts make decisions about the activities they will do together and make choices as they're doing the activities together. As Girl Scouts learn from their successful, and not-so-successful tries, they gain confidence. All troop members should have the opportunity to lead within their peer group. By the time Girl Scouts are Cadettes, Seniors, and Ambassadors, they will be using the leadership skills they've developed to take on more ownership of their activities, mentor younger Girl Scouts, and take action to make the world a better place.

THE THREE KEYS OF GIRL SCOUTING:

1. Discover
2. Connect
3. Take Action

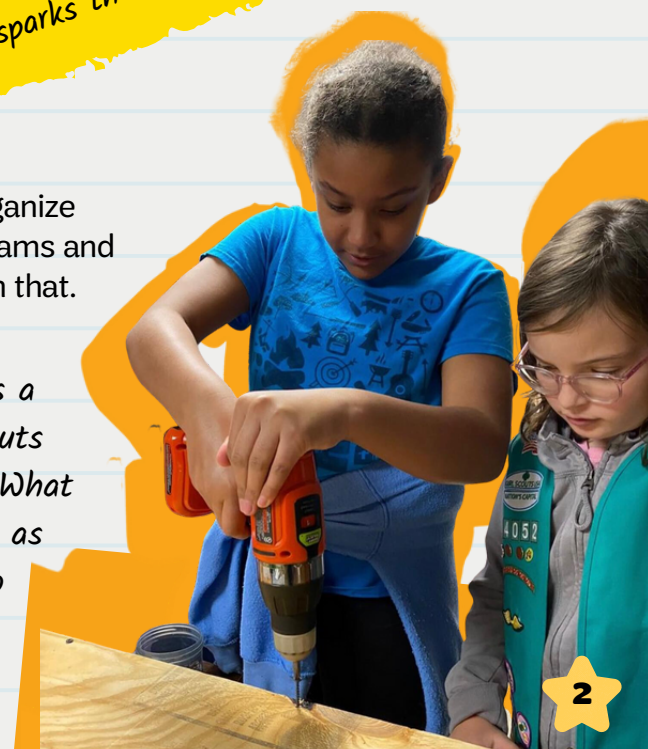

GIRL SCOUTS TAKE THE LEAD

From selecting the badges they'll pursue to how they'll organize an activity; Girl Scouts have the chance to follow their dreams and grow their skills—and gain the confidence that comes with that.

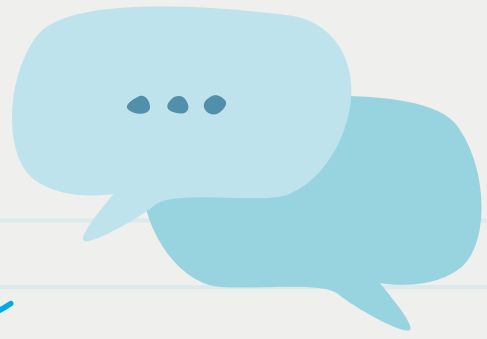

Projects don't have to come out perfectly—in fact, it's a valuable learning experience when they don't—Girl Scouts don't have to fill their vests and sashes with badges. What matters most is the fun and learning that takes place as they make experiences their own, so don't be afraid to step back and let your Girl Scouts take the lead.

One last tip
Girl Scouting isn't a to-do list, so please don't feel that checking activities off a list is more important than tuning in to what interests the troop and sparks their imaginations.

INSPIRE OPEN COMMUNICATION

Girl Scouts want someone who will listen to what they think, feel, and want to do. They like having someone to whom they can talk about the important things happening in their lives.

- 6 Listen to the Girl Scouts. Respond with words and actions.
- 6 Speak your mind openly when you are happy or concerned about something, and encourage Girl Scouts to do this, too.
- 6 Leave the door open for Girl Scouts to seek advice, share ideas and feelings, and propose plans or improvements.
- 6 Help Girl Scouts understand that when they communicate openly, it can lead to taking action, discovering new things, understanding themselves and others better, along with creating a friendly environment for fun and achieving goals.

Is your troop interested in leading flag ceremonies, TV appearances, or any high profile events?

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

Financial assistance is designed to help registered Girl Scout youth and adult members participate in Girl Scout activities where financial considerations might otherwise hinder such participation. A chart in Volunteer Essentials summarizes the types of financial assistance available from the Council. Funding for much of this assistance comes from the generous support of Girl Scout families through SHARE, our annual giving campaign.

1.) Troop and Member Financial Assistance

Assistance for the annual GSUSA membership dues is available for Girl Scouts and adult volunteers. To request this type of assistance, log on to your account at www.gscnc.org and request financial assistance during the membership purchase checkout.

2.) Assistance for uniforms, books, and troop dues is available to registered GSCNC Girl Scouts and troop leaders. The online form can be filled out by the parent or the troop leader. To begin this process, go to the “Forms” page of our website and select “Financial Assistance for Uniforms, Books & Troop Dues”.

PROGRAM GRANTS & LOANS

Program Grants help all troop members participate in an approved Girl Scout activity:

- Troop activity, event, or trip
- Nation’s Capital sponsored event
- An individual activity such as a Girl Scout Destination or similar trip
- To submit a program grant, search Program Grant Application under “Forms” on www.gscnc.org and send to programaa@gscnc.org. Detailed budgets and/or itineraries are required to be attached to this form.

THANK YOU

to our dedicated volunteers who make Girl Scouts an amazing experience for all!

CONGRESSIONAL AIDE 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Girl Scout Ambassadors and 10th grade Seniors can combine service and citizenship by applying to participate in our Congressional Aide program. Girl Scouts are placed for one week during the summer in a 40-hour internship in a House or Senate office. They learn first-hand about our nation's political process and help members of Congress and their staff with daily assignments behind the scenes. Applications open in January and are due on March 1, 2024.

PROGRAM KITS

Did You Know that Girl Scouts Nation's Capital offers materials that can be borrowed to support your Girl Scout experience? Program Kits are fun, age-appropriate resources and are available for varied subjects such as STEM, Journeys, the environment, teamwork, and healthy living. Leaders can use them during troop meetings and as stations at larger events such as encampments. Each kit is designed to serve a troop of 10-16 Girl Scouts but can be modified to accommodate larger groups.

AEROSPACE

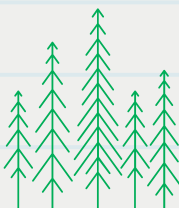

In this newly renovated kit, Girl Scouts explore Aerospace concepts through hands-on activities. They will learn about the science behind flying and the NATO Phonetic Alphabet, and be able to explore the Sun, Moon, and Stars. They will lastly get to discover the life of an astronaut. This kit is available for all levels of Girl Scouts.

INTRODUCTORY ROBOTICS

The activities in this kit are designed for those wishing to begin their exploration of robotics. It allows Girl Scouts to explore the different parts of a robot and their function in the overall success in making the robot move.

ECO BOX

Teach your Girl Scouts to be stewards of the earth with the Eco Box Program Kit! This kit was developed to inform Girl Scouts about current environmental issues and encourage them to proactively protect our natural environment. It can be used in conjunction with the Environmental Stewardship badges and Naturalist badges. The kit contains activities, crafts, educational resources, and models that get girls of all ages thinking about the environment and their role in preserving it.

Become a High Adventure Facilitator!

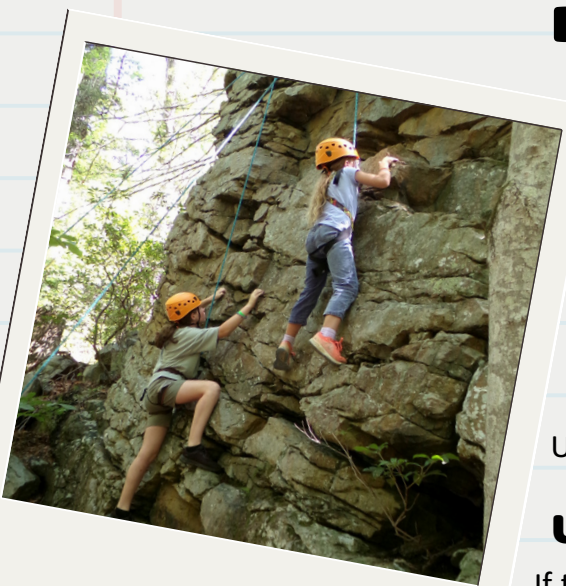

The best way to ensure that you will have a high adventure facilitator is by recruiting an adult volunteer from your troop! Girl Scouts Nation's Capital offers high adventure trainings for the following activities:

- Archery
- Canoe
- Kayak
- Tomahawks
- Slingshots
- Low Ropes

Upcoming trainings can be found at gscnc.org/events

Unable to get trained right now?

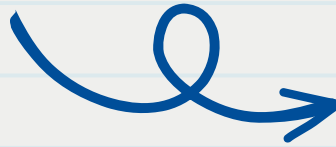

If the timing doesn't work to have a member of your troop take the training or your certified facilitator is unavailable, you can request help from the Camping department to find a facilitator for your reservation. Visit our website at gscnc.org/highadventure

Badge & Journey Workshops
for all levels

Find scheduled events
on our webpage or book a time just for your troop. If you have fewer than 10, we can invite other Girl Scouts!

Art • Architecture • History • Science

What will you discover?

Explore Tudor Place's garden or find a new path through our historic house. Reveal the science of flowers, what life was like for women during the 1920s, how architects build strong and beautiful buildings, or how we can learn from trees. Private and Public programs are available for Daisies, Brownies, Juniors, and Cadettes. Each program is an hour and a half long, aligns with badge requirements and includes a Tudor Place Patch.
